CONFUSION IN REGARD TO REGISTRATION

Judge Price Thinks He Should Have Called Special Registration, So Issues Order.

Expressing the belief that under the election laws of Kentucky, he should have issued a call for special registration of voters in Richmond, County Judge W. K. Price has issued a call for another special registration to be held next Saturday, so that those who did not register last fall, may be enabled to vote in the special congressional election. Judge Price says he is proceeding under the section of the law which says that the registration shall be ordered by the "county judge or other officer" calling the election. As the "other officer" calling the election was Gov. Stanley who did not order a special registration, Judge Price says it looks like it is up to him to do so.

On the other hand County Clerk J. W. Maupin and other officials point out that Judge Price has nothing to do with the calling of this special registration, asserting that the language of the law is plainly that the officer calling the election must call the special registration, and inasmuch as Judge Price did not call the election, he has no power to call the special registration.

However, the call for the registration has been issued by Judge Price and is given in full below. This registration will be held at the four regular voting precincts of the city, and must be conducted by the regular officers in those precincts. Notwithstanding the confusion that seems to have resulted over the special registration, it would be well for all voters who registered last Saturday to go to their several voting places and register again. The call issued by Judge Price is as follows:

Notice of Special Registration

Notice is hereby given that a special registration will be held in the four voting precincts of Richmond, Ky., on Saturday, July 26, 1919, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of permitting voters who were absent from the city at the last regular registration held in 1918, and who were otherwise lawfully deprived of registering at said regular registration, and those who have become of age since the said last registration, to qualify to vote in the special election called for August 2, 1919, to choose a successor to the late Harvey Helm as congressman from the Eighth Congressional District of Kentucky, said special election having been called by A. O. Stanley, on May 12, 1919; who was at that time governor of Kentucky. W. K. PRICE, 200 6 County Judge M. C.

Forest Fires Menace Four Towns

Spokane, Wash., July 23—Despite efforts of 2,500 forestry service men and several hundred others, the forest fires are unchecked and many are out of bounds in northern Idaho and western and central Montana. Four Montana towns, Thompson Falls, St. Regis, Henderson and Maiden are seriously menaced. The blaze is within a mile of Thompson Falls, the county seat of Sanders county, and scores of persons are combating it.

Buys Phelps Cobb's Cattle

Leer and Million, of Richmond, slipped down to Danville this week and bought Phelps Cobb's fat cattle. There were 46 of them and they averaged 1,250 pounds. Mr. Cobb had them in fine shape and they brought a fancy price. A number of big buyers have been in Madison this week "spotting" fancy steers, though no sales have yet been reported to the outside buyers. Among the big buyers here were both Messrs. Weil, Sim and Jonas, W. A. Thomason, of Bourbon county, and Monte Fox, of Danville, is expected this week.

THE WEATHER

SOLDIERS QUIETING THINGS AT CAPITAL

(By Associated Press) Washington, July 23—Although there was spasmodic shooting in some of the negro districts until early today, the major casualties in last night's clashes between the whites and negroes consisted of one white man killed and another probably fatally wounded and scores injured in melees but the wounds of none are expected to be fatal despite the fact the capital was an armed camp, the fourth night of the race warfare was less violent than Monday when four were killed and a dozen seriously injured. Feeling which was inflamed by reported attacks upon whites by negroes, is no less bitter but the presence of 2,000 heavily armed soldiers, marines and sailors doing duty with 700 police and several hundred home defence guards acted as a deterrent upon attempts at organized mob violence.

JAPS SAY SHANTUNG NOT IN RACIAL MATTER

(By Associated Press) Paris, July 23—The Japanese delegation to the peace conference today denied assertions that the Shantung settlement in the German peace conference treaty was in exchange for withdrawal of the Japanese contention regarding the racial clause in the League of Nations.

New Creamery To Be Opened

It is understood that plans have been perfected for a new creamery, which will be located with the branch office of Renaker the poultry man, on Second street. The company, which is said to be one of the largest in the state, will install an electric tester, and Mrs. Bronston has been engaged as operator. The creamery business seems to be the growing industry of the day and new ones are opening up each week over the state.

Mrs. Flora Buys In Lexington

News comes from Lexington that Mrs. Anna Flora, formerly of Richmond, has purchased a handsome home in Bell Court from Mr. Hugh French, and will make it her home in the future. The price paid for it was $9,000, but the location is one of the best and most favorable in Lexington. The residence is an attractive one of brick.

Record Corn Price

W. W. Carney, a Henderson county farmer, sold 6,000 bushels of corn to the A. Waller Grain Company, of Henderson this week at $2.02 per bushel. This is the highest price ever paid for corn on that market. Thirty-five thousand bushels sold last week in Indiana, at $2.01 1-2 delivered in freight cars.

Bob Greene Will Get It

(By Associated Press) Louisville, July 23—A Times Frankfort dispatch says it seems certain that State Auditor Greene will be appointed member of the Stae Tax Commission. DR. HEATH'S BROTHER LEAVES BIG ESTATE

Benjamin D. Heath, of Charlotte, S. C., reputed to be worth more than $2,500,000, died at his home on Central avenue, from heart trouble, last Thursday. He was in his 69th year and had lived only a few more days he would have seen his 70th birthday. He is survived by only one brother, M. C. Heath, of Richmond, whom he visited in former years. Dr. Heath was called to his bedside several weeks ago, and had always attended him in his sickness. He leaves a wife and 12 children, seven by his last wife, and five by his first. He was one of the leading men of Charlotte, and an active church worker in the Methodist church. He was of a philanthropic nature and made many gifts to deserving causes, among them was a donation of $20,000 to the Methodist orphanage at Winston-Salem. Dr. Heath arrived home this week from Charlotte, where he had been with his brother.

REPORT FAVORS MOONEY

(By Associated Press) Washington, July 23—Thomas J. Mooney did not receive full justice in his San Francisco trial for alleged connection with the Preparedness day bomb explosion according to the report of John B. Densmore, former special agent of the Department of Justice who investigated the case for the government. The report, dated last November, was submitted to the House today in response to a resolution. "The plain truth is," said the report, "there was nothing about the case to produce a feeling of confidence that the dignity and majesty of the law has been upheld. There is nowhere anything resembling a consistent effort, being a patch work of incongruous makeshifts and often of desperate expediency."

Mrs. Collins Critically Ill

A wire from Denver, Colorado, Tuesday, to Mr. May Collins, stated that his mother, Mrs. W. J. Collins, who has been with her son, Dr. Phelps Collins, for the past two months, was dangerously ill of blood poisoning. Mr. Collins left immediately for her bedside. His friends sincerely hope he will find her condition improved.

Bolsheviki Want Peace

(By Associated Press) London, Tuesday, July 22—A Bolshevik delegation has arrived at Kishineff with an offer of peace to the commander of the Rumanian troops on the Dneister, on behalf of Bolshevik Premier Lenine, according to a Berlin government wireless.

Believes In Advertising

J. S. Stanifer, the clothing merchant, has just closed contracts for placing large bill boards on the pikes leading into Richmond, upon which he intends carrying on an active advertising campaign to be followed up in the Daily Register. Mr. Stanifer realizes advantage of the advertising medium, and while he intends spending a neat little sum in advertising his goods, he knows that he will be amply repaid for his efforts.

Here, There, Everywhere

The Louisville Herald in its reports gathered from all parts of the State, indicate Black's nomination, with Carroll gaining, but not fast enough to win. William Marshall Bullitt has filed a suit in Kansas City to test the constitutionality of the Farm Loan Act. Ex-President Taft gave a most convincing decision some time ago that it was constitutional. League foes claim they have pledged two more votes in the Senate than is necessary to defeat ratification and the list has been offered to President Wilson. On the other hand Administration leaders declare that the League of Nations will be adopted without reservations and that the opponents of the measure have lost their fight.

DRUMMER SAYS BLACK IS AHEAD

One hundred and ninety voters, who were absent at time of regular registration last year, had their names enrolled to enable them to participate in the state primaries and congressional election, in Richmond Saturday. Of this number 120 registered as democrats and 75 as republicans.

Interest continues in the various state races as August 2nd, primary day, draws nearer. J. Forest March, the well known drummer, who recently moved from Richmond to Lexington to make his home so as to handle his 10 counties better, was in town Tuesday morning. He said that he had taken pains to inquire about several races in the district he travels. He says that he is confident that Gov. Black will carry every county he travels in and they are: Madison, Montgomery, Bath Nicholas, Fleming, Bourbon, Fayette, Jessamine, Garrard, Estill and Franklin. Mr. March says that his prediction is based on his talks to country merchants and other business men and sounding them as to the sentiment in their communities.

SHANKS SPENT $1,634; OLDHAM $3,965.27

Reports came from Frankfort Monday of the filing of expense statements by a number of candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor, tops all the candidates in spending his pre-primary election fund. He reported that he had spent $5,198.16, most of which was for advertising.

Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, reported only $276 as spent. The pre-primary election expense account of Chief Justice John D. Carroll is $6,300. Of this amount M. Logan, his campaign manager, spent $425. Practically all of this money has been spent for postage and printing. Col. Ronald C. Oldham, of Winchester, spent $3,965.27 in the interest of his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor. Oldham's expense account is the most complete filed with the Secretary of State. Accompanying the account are the cancelled checks which total the amount set out in the expense account.

W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor, has spent $1,634 in his campaign.

D. E. McQuary, of Whitley City, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, has spent $195.85; Henry F. Commissioner of Agriculture Cohen, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, has spent $2,016.72. Charles I. Dawson, of Pineville, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, $322.10. Ryland C. Musick, of Jackson, Democrat candidate for Attorney-General, $1,669.04. John A. Goodman, of Elkton, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has no expense account.

ARMENIA WANTS U. S. ITS MANDATORY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, July 23—The State Department today announced that the United States will sign treaties with Bulgaria and Turkey although it has never actually been at war with either country. It will sign to show its concurrence in the terms imposed upon these allies of Austria and Germany, including changes in the boundary lines and the creation of new nations, some of which, particularly Armenia, will probably ask the United States to act as mandatory for them under the League of Nations.

GIRL'S BODY EXHUMED—NO CLEWS FOUND YET

Cincinnati, July 23—Reopening late yesterday afternoon at St. Stephen's Cemetery, Ft. Thomas, of the grave of Clara Fisher, pretty 15-year-old daughter of Anton Fischer, Newport, served to verify many of the assumptions upon which investigators have been working since Friday in an effort to establish the identity of the ghoul or ghouls who took the body from its grave Thursday night.

Detectives are pondering upon the possible significance of one new feature of the case, namely, the fact that the girl's left arm was broken, presumably when the body was exhumed by the ghouls in the silence of night and dragged to the shelter of a tree several yards away from the grave. A match found in the grave yesterday may furnish another clew detectives said.

Another angle developed when detectives were informed from a source which, they said, they were not at liberty to disclose, that a Newport woman who suffers from a deformity had been told by a fortune teller that a deformity of some kind could be cured if rubbed with a cloth or rag taken from attire of a dead person.

The grave was opened in the presence of Campbell County officials, operatives of the Cal Crim Detective Bureau, and Trustees of St. Stephens Cemetery. After the examination Drs. Youtsey and Digby announced these things:

That the left arm was broken. That there were stains and mud on the clothing, mostly the stockings and slippers.

That a cloth used to hold the body in place, known among undertakers as a "body napkin," had been removed.

That a thorough search of the grave, the coffin, the clothing and of the premises failed to reveal any trace of the lily which was in the girl's hand at the time of the funeral last Thursday morning.

That the body doubtless had not been mistreated to the extent feared by members of the Fischer family and detectives who viewed the body Friday.

Stains found on the garments of the dead girl may be placed under a microscope today.

Interest in the case was increased when Detective Paul V. Ryan, principal in the investigation, announced threats had been made against him. Mr. Ryan said he was called from his bed at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by the ringing of the telephone. The person who made the call, he said, informed him it "would be as much as his life was worth" if he were seen in the vicinity of Fort Thomas, "after dusk Tuesday evening." Mr. Ryan said he kept up the conversation as long as he could, endeavoring to "draw out" the person who called him, but was unable to gain an expression which might give him a clew to the identity of the author of the threat.

Much interest will be occasioned among real estate men and land owners in the announcement that the magnificent farm of Mrs. Mary Harris Clay, containing 573 acres and situated about six miles from Richmond on Menalus pike and the L. & N. railroad, is to be put up in small farms and sold to the highest bidder. The sale will be held in September by Mr. L. P. Evans, real estate dealer of Richmond. Mr. Evans has just returned from Bourbon county, where Mrs. Clay makes her home, and concluded arrangements with her by which the land will be offered publicly to the highest bidder.

This farm is said to be one of the finest in Madison county and all who have heard of its prospective sale are predicting that a new record for high priced land will be made when it goes under the hammer. The farm is part of "Blythewood," the home of late Major John D. Harris, and is known all over this section of the State. The farm will be sold in tracts to suit the buyers and liberal terms will be given. Mr. Evans is making many sales in this locality and anyone who has anything to sell in the way of farms or city property, would do well to consult him, before considering a sale.

TELLS WHY MEXICO IS SO CONTEMPTUOUS

(By Associated Press) Washington, July 23—Mexican contempt for the United States is largely due to the withdrawal of the two American military expeditions sent into Mexico, William B. Mitchell, former manager of the bank of London in Mexico City, told the House Rules Committee today. The committee is considering a resolution authorizing an investigation of the relations between the two countries. The witness said the feeling against Americans is strengthened by the belief that the Washington government and American people are afraid to assert their rights.

CONTINUATION OF BECKHART'S ADDRESS ON PEACE TREATY

Mr. President, it has occasionally been observed since this discussion began some months ago that there was much in the opposition to the league of nations to recall to us the opposition to our Federal Constitution after it was adopted by the convention in 1787 and before its ratification by all of the States. I have myself from the beginning been greatly impressed by this parallel between the two events, and I have been frequently reminded by the arguments used against this league of how similar in character and often in presentation are they to the arguments used in some of the State conventions that were held to ratify the Federal Constitution.

The adoption of that instrument was the greatest experiment in government ever tried by men. It is easy for us now, with our long perspective view, to see how futile, if not foolish, were some of the arguments used against its adoption. We naturally wonder that some of the eminent statesmen of that time could have offered such objections to it or could have hesitated to give it their enthusiastic approval. And yet I believe, Mr. President, that those men, many of them of great distinction and ability, had as much reason to fear disastrous results from the adoption of that Constitution as today the opponents of the league of nations have to fear from the adoption of this covenant.

Let us endeavor to carry ourselves back to that period in our history, unlighted by any of the events subsequent to the adoption of the Constitution. Let us try to look into the future from that time as our forefathers did, and we can better appreciate the difficulties that confronted them. They realized what an experiment it would be. They dreaded lest the young country, with its 13 independent States, might embark upon a sea of greater danger and peril than they had escaped from in severing their relations with the mother country.

Even Thomas Jefferson, whose political wisdom and foresight have never been excelled by any man in his or any other generation, said in a letter to John Adams of November 13, 1787, after the Philadelphia convention had framed the constitution and submitted it to the States:

How do you like our new Constitution? I confess that there are things in it which stagger all my disposition to subscribe to what such an assembly has proposed. The House of Federal Representatives will not be adequate to the management of affairs, either foreign or Federal. Their President seems to be a bad edition of a Polish king. He may be elected from four years to four years for life.

And he goes on, calling attention to other objections to the document. In another letter to a friend, dated December 31, 1787, he said:

As to the new Constitution, I find myself nearly a neutral. There is a great mass of good in it, in a very desirable form, but there is also, to me a bitter pill or two. I have written somewhat lengthily to Mr. Madison upon this subject, and will take the liberty to refer you to that part of my letter to him.

Does not that, Mr. President, illustrate the position of many of the opponents of the league of nations?

But as time went on Mr. Jefferson began to change his attitude toward the Constitution and became one of the advocates of its adoption. On May 17, 1788, in a letter to a friend and I commend this, Mr. President, most earnestly to the consideration of those who hesitate about changing a position when once taken and invite their attention to the intellectual operation of one of our country's greatest statesmen in advocating the adoption of an instrument which his caution at first led him to seriously doubt. He said:

JUDGE BLACK'S RECORD

Was Attorney For L. & N. Railroad and Asking Passes in Order That Injuries Might Be Packed for the Railroads. At the Same Time He Was Acting As First Assistant Attorney General for the State of Kentucky

(Editorial From Glasgow Times)

It has been the general belief that Governor James D. Black, because he led the ticket in the last gubernatorial election, was the logical man to head the ticket now. Many Democrats have been impressed that he was the Moses to lead the party to victory in 1919. He did not, however, even lead the ticket.

But his record in the Interstate Commerce Commission into the corrupt and criminal manipulation of judges, jurors and officials by the L. & N. Railroad Company by the free distribution of passes, has cast a light on the action of the Governor wholly unknown to the Democrats of the State at the time he was supposed to have led the ticket. Again, we emphasize the fact that the claim of his leading the State ticket in the last gubernatorial race is without foundation and is wholly disproved by the official count.

The following letter, written by him and UNEARTHED BY THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION IN 1916, addressed to B. D. Warfield Attorney for the L. & N. Railroad Company, is explanatory:

"Dear Mr. Warfield: Mr. William Tye, of this place, and the owner of the local newspaper, 'The People's News,' has recently sold said paper to Dr. Charles Davis, of this place. By virtue of some arrangement with the L. & N. R. R. Company Mr. Tye holds a pass over a portion of the company's lines in Kentucky. Because of said transfer of the ownership of said paper, Mr. Tye will have to surrender his pass; and Dr. Davis will likely apply for same instead. I write to ask, at the suggestion of Mr. Tye, that you permit Mr. Tye to retain his pass during the remainder of the year. He agrees to assist us in the company's litigation in the courts. His service in this regard will amply justify the company in permitting him to hold the pass for said time."

"He is of a numerous and influential family, and some of his people are usually on the juries in our courts. I think it would be a good idea to allow free transportation for said time."

Upon receiving the letter Mr. Warfield addressed the Vice President of the L. & N. Railroad Company, Mr. W. L. Mapother, as follows, making notation on the bottom of the letter:

"Please note and return. Mr. Black, besides being one of our attorneys at Barboursville, is also the First Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky under the present administration."

"Therefore, I think it will be well

JUDGE BLACK'S L. & N. LETTER

(Editorial From Meade County Messenger)

On another page of this issue is printed an editorial which appeared in the Glasgow Times of May 21, 1919. It relates to a letter written by Judge James D. Black, who is asking the Democrats of the Kentucky to nominate him for Governor.

We have no grievances against Judge Black and entertain no personal or political ill-will against him, but the Democrats of the State are entitled to and ought to know before the primary the public record of all candidates for office.

This railroad letter was published in the Courier-Journal last December, and since that time Judge Black on three different occasions publicly stated that in due time he would explain it, but thus far he has failed to even try to do so. Evidently he intends to ignore it, but the Democrats of the State cannot afford to treat it with indifference. If it could have been explained or defended, Judge Black should have done so the day after it was published; he should have done so in his opening speech in this campaign. His failure to do so justifies us in saying that he can make no defense and, in plain truth, no explanation or defense can be made of a letter like this.

It is a serious matter for a private citizen, much less a public officer, to be guilty of the grave offense of tampering with jurors. Suppose you had a case pending against a corporation and you discovered that the attorney for the corporation had advised his client that a prominent man should be given $100 to "fix" the jury; what would you think about it? Would you vote for him for Governor or any other office? Is there any difference between giving money for this corrupt purpose and giving a pass, which represents money?

The Democrats of the State had an experience like this four years ago when a candidate was nominated for a State office and after his nomination it was made public that he had been guilty of offenses that showed him to be unfit for the office. Morrow, then as now the Republican candidate for Governor, attacked this man's record in every speech he made, and the result was that after having been nominated by the Democrats by a large majority he was defeated in the regular election by a Republican. The offense this man was guilty of was not nearly so serious as the offense Judge Black is charged with, and what Morrow did to the other

Mrs. Mary Murphy, aged 47 years wife of James Howard Murphy, a prominent farmer of Jessamine county, died at her home at Sulphur Well.

LOST—Gold watch, with Gaar-Scoot fob attached. Reward for return to this office. 198 4p to comply with his request. Please let me know whether I may say to him that this will be done."

This hidden history brings to light the fact that Governor Black while he was acting as First Assistant Attorney General for Kentucky was at the time an attorney for the L. & N. Railroad Company.

Would Judge Carroll have been guilty of this act? Most certainly not! Would Judge Denhardt have done this? Never! It is unthinkable that Judge Black can reconcile his own conscience to this attempted manipulation and corruption of courts and juries. The Times does not care to dwell upon the shameful matter further. The record speaks for itself.

The man to head the Democratic ticket this year—above all other times—must be the ablest, the best and the purest, and above suspicion—one who will not be discovered to be, after his election, a different type from that which he was believed to be before his nomination and election; one who will not make promises to be broken; one who will not surround himself with a horde of hungry office-holders and office-seekers to make trades for him with which to win his nomination and election.

Any other manner of man, cannot lead—even if selected and nominated—the Democracy of Kentucky to the victory to which it is entitled at the polls in November, 1919. The voters of this Commonwealth cannot be and should not be, persuaded to believe that any other type of candidate, even if elected Governor of Kentucky would not continue his same old methods—even against the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The leopard cannot change his spots, and the elevating of a man from one State office to the office of Governor will not change his nature and character.

The perfection and the purity of the jury system have been the pride and the hope of our country, and the basis of our system of government, yet this suggestion by Judge Black, when carried out, evades, invades and destroys this system.

With no consciousness of our duty to the Democrats of Kentucky, with an unflinching devotion to the eternal principles of Democracy, and with an abiding faith in the Democratic party, we urge the untainted, the boys in the trenches, the bone and sinew of Democracy, to look well into the life and work of the aspirants for this nomination before it is everlasting too late.

The Times has not the slightest ill-feeling against Judge Black, but it will not allow the great Democratic party in Kentucky—the pride and hope of a fearless citizenship—to rush blindly without its warning as to its peril. But the Times desires to be absolutely fair, and, if the above recital of cold facts are in any degree incorrect, or false, it will give Judge Black, or his friends, all necessary space to correct the matter. Above all things, it purpose to play the game fair.

candidate four years ago he would certainly do to Black in the November election. Can the Democrats of the State afford to make a mistake like this? Can they afford to nominate a man who will be assailed throughout the State and for whose conduct no explanation or defense can be made?

The success of the Democratic party is of more importance than the success of Judge Black or any other candidate; if we expect to win in November we must nominate men with clean public records.

The railroad letter was not dug up for political purposes—it was not published to hurt Judge Black. Its publication came about in this way: The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered an investigation of the activities of the L. & N. Railroad Company in the distribution of free passes for the purpose of unduly influencing "judges, jurors and public officers." It obtained through its inspectors hundreds of letters like this Black letter that were on file in the offices of the L. & N. Railroad Company, and then it held a public trial at which the Railroad Company and the Commerce Commission were represented by counsel, numbers of witnesses were examined, and numbers of letters, among them the Black letter, were introduced as evidence.

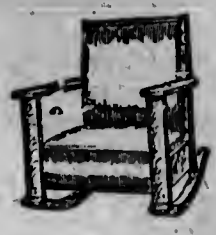

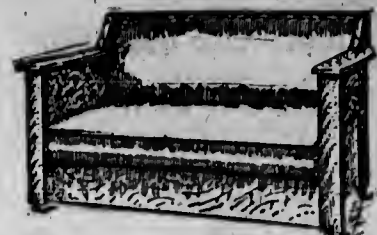

THE PROCEEDINGS AT THE TRIAL, ALL OF THE LETTERS WERE PUBLISHED BY CONGRESS, AND MAY BE FOUND IN A BOOK STYLED "SENATE DOCUMENT NO. 30, SIXTY-FOURTH CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION." Copies of this document can be obtained from any Senator or Congressman.

This trial was had in April, 1916, and this letter then for the first time became public. Does anybody believe that if it had been known or had been made public in 1915 that Judge Black could have been nominated, or if nominated elected Lieutenant Governor?

This letter should be published by every Democratic paper in Kentucky before the primary, so that the Democrats of the State may be fully advised. If, in the face of this letter, they want to invite defeat, let them do it with their eyes open. Next year we must elect a Senator and a President. If Kentucky goes Republican this fall we will have trouble in carrying the State next year. It is the duty of every Democrat to assist in nominating a ticket that can win this November. Can we win if Judge Black is the nominee? We doubt it.

Lansing, Mich.—"After the birth of my child I was not able to stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not get up. I suffered such pains in my back I could not work or hardly take care of my baby. One of my neighbors recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I got better right away and was soon a new woman and could work hard, and I can recommend these remedies to other young mothers who are weak and ailing as I was."—Mrs. OMA O. Were you ever disappointed with your Home-made Preserves?

Even the best recipe can't make allowances for the way sugar will harden into candy—or for the failure of a jelly to "jell".

Thousands of women are finding the ideal preserving syrup is a blend of $\frac{1}{2}$ Karo (Red Label) with $\frac{1}{2}$ sugar—instead of all sugar. Preserving done this way is always uniform—jelly that really "jells"—jam that is neither too syrupy nor too thick.

It gives you preserves with the natural fresh fruit flavor.

This fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit. It blends the fruit with the sugar—makes your syrup rich and heavy, and holds jams and jellies firm and mellow, with not the slightest tendency to "candy" in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE A book of sixty-eight pages that gives you the best recipes for sure results in preserving. Easy to follow. The Corn Products Cook Book is handsomely illustrated—and it's free. Write us today for it.

KILLING OFF ELEPHANTS

London July 17.—The life of the famous African elephant seems to be in danger for the South African Cape Provincial proposed to exterminate those in the Addo Bush Forest, near Port Elizabeth.

For generations past these animals have been a great nuisance to the farmers. They have damaged crops and killed several persons.

The African elephant is noted for its laziness—quite the reverse to its Indian relative who when called upon cheerfully and easily shoulders a burden of a ton or so. However, an effort is to be made to train the young ones log-hauling in the Cape forests.

The rounding up of the animals has involved the erection of a number of lofty observation towers and so large are the number to be killed that the shooting of the animals will take over six months. That natives enjoy elephant's meat and the prospects of an unlimited supply for several months is being eagerly looked forward to. The Provisional Council's announcement has caused keen regret among naturalists some of whom say that should the threat be carried into effect the elephant, like the mastodon and ichthyosaurus, may become extinct.

We know the history of the Waist you wear

The waist you wear may be a modest garment of cotton—or again a camisole of cobwebby silk.

But be your waist a commoner or an aristocrat, we can give you its pedigree—can tell you the materials of which it is made, whence they came and the manner in which they are spun, woven and tailored to make the garment for you.

We are able to do this because we make a special study of textiles and fabrics, thru the specialists retained by the laundry industry at Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh.

We are enabled thus to give every variety of garment that comes to us in your family wash exactly the treatment that will cleanse it best.

Is this not an improvement upon the methods of the old-time laundress?

Visit us and watch our workers while they sort the articles that come to us in your bundle, so that each can be given the special washing it most needs.

End your Monday problems by telephoning us your address. We will instruct our driver to call for your bundle.

YOUR CATARRH MAY LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

Dangerous to Use Treatment for Only Temporary Relief.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and other distasteful features. The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications. S. S. New Pool Room in East End

Wright Hamilton, who has managed a general store in the county for some time, has decided to open up business in Richmond, and will lease the room in the Richmond Hotel block, formerly occupied by Jas. SOLDIERS STRONG FOR SWOPE

D. H. Kincaid, of Danville, was in Richmond, Tuesday, looking over the field in the interest of King Swope, republican nominee for Congress in the Eighth District. Dr. Kincaid is a war horse in politics, and his talk with Republican voters here in Madison put life into the congressional race. Dr. Kincaid is distributing a lot of advertising matter among the newspapers, and the following taken from the Casey County News is published in the interest of King Swope:

With the Congressional race in this district only about three weeks off there is a very decided wave among the young Democrats of this county in favor of King Swope, the young soldier candidate of the Republican party. Mr. Swope will get practically every soldier vote in this county for two reasons. First, because he was in the army himself and stands for needed legislation in favor of the soldiers; second, because Judge Hardin, his opponent, does not have one day of military service to his credit and overlooked the soldiers completely in his platform. In addition to these facts, several soldiers of this county, who heard the joint debate between Judge Hardin and Mr. Swope at Columbia, heard Judge Hardin say that he could not definitely promise the soldiers that he would support bills for extra pay or homestead grants.

The thinking people of the district that we have heard expressions from are of the opinion that Judge Hardin's election would not mean anything to the district because he being in the minority would not be selected for a single committee assignment and instead of being a co-worker with the majority would be co-kicker with the minority. Every voter who believes in progressive legislation and in wide awake young men should vote for King Swope on the 2nd day of August because we all know where he stands, as his platform is broad and constructive, while Judge Hardin has no platform but is seeking to get into office by being a Demo- Adv.—200-11.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has suffered a very distinct loss in the death of Brother David R. Freeman.

Now be it Resolved by Richmond Lodge No. 581 of which he was faithful and loyal member that said Lodge does hereby bear testimony of and note of record the sense of loss sustained by our brotherhood in the death of our beloved Brother.

Brother Freeman, called "Uncle Davy" by his intimate friends and associates, did as much as if not more than any other member of this Lodge to promote the cause of Elksdom both in his home Lodge at Richmond and in the Grand Lodge and State Association. A Past Exalted Ruler of Richmond, he has also been a member of the Grand Lodge, in attendance at its meetings, and an officer in the State Association. No Elk had a better appreciation and understanding of the true principles of Elksdom than he and none excelled him in the practice of those principles. He was an honorary life member of our local Lodge. As companion and friend he was always kind, amiable, congenial and true and as an Elk he was charitable, just and faithful. We mourn his loss as friends and Brothers.

Be it further, Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, and that a copy be mailed to his sister to whom we hereby express our sympathy in her hour of sorrow.

Mistake About Wedding

Some one who evidently thought to be funny, brought in to the Daily Register office last week, notice of a wedding, which the young lady mentioned as a bride says is wholly untrue. The Daily Register regrets that it was the innocent medium of such a "practical joker." The following from the young lady corrects the matter:

I wish to correct the statement that was in the paper last week about Miss Lurline Mae Baker and Mr. Walter Lee Parks being married. They are not married and they didn't have the least idea of getting married. I want to thank the girl who had it published very much for being so wise. It was only they that wanted this boy but I am afraid they will never succeed. Lurline Mae Baker.

Dexter "Double Tub"

This machine gets right down to business as soon as the power is turned on. It washes, rinses—wrings by power, all at the same time. Does big family washing in less than the time required by the ordinary power washer.

Dexter Double Tub, has complete power washing gearing in both tubs—a handy, swinging wringer which carries the clothes forward from one operation to the other—no waiting—no delays.

Note the heavy steel frame which keeps all working parts in alignment, insuring smooth running and satisfactory service—folding steel shelf which accommodates either extra rinse tubs or clothes baskets.
